

To whom it may concern,

I am pleased to recommend Ruby Boggus, whom I have had the privilege of coaching in volleyball for 3 years. Throughout this time, Ruby has consistently demonstrated an exceptional work ethic—showing up early, staying late, and putting in the extra effort that elevates both personal performance and the entire team. Her eagerness to learn new skills and refine existing ones has been evident in every practice, and her coachability has made her a standout athlete. Whether facing a new challenge or adapting to a difficult situation, Ruby approaches each task with positivity, determination, and focus.

Beyond her athletic ability, Ruby exemplifies the character traits every coach hopes to see in a player. She is accountable, taking responsibility for her actions on and off the court, and she consistently models respect towards teammates, opponents, and coaches alike. Her timeliness and professionalism set the tone for those around herself, making her not only a reliable team member but also a leader by example. I have full confidence that Ruby will bring the same dedication, integrity, and respect to any program or opportunity she pursues.

Elise McKittrick

---